- Understanding the needs of each child that is looked- after or has been previously looked after
- Having high expectations
- Effective education planning
- Promoting inclusion through challenging and changing attitudes.
- Promoting attendance and reducing exclusions
- Targeting support
- Achieving stability and continuity.
- Early intervention
- Listening to children.
- Promoting good social, emotional, mental health and wellbeing.
- Working in partnership with the Virtual School Head, carers, social workers and other professionals.

Governor Responsible: David Forsdick

Designated Lead: Richard Morse

Definition

Under the Children's Act 1989, a child is looked after by a local authority if s/he is in their care provided with accommodation for more than 24 hours by the authority. They include the following with accommodation for more than 24 hours by the authority. They include the following:

- i. Children who accommodated by their local authority under a voluntary agreement with their parents (section 20)
- ii. Children who are subject of care order (section 31 (1) or an interim care order (section 38)
- iii. Children who are subject of emergency protection orders for the protection of the child (section 44)

A previously looked-after child is one who is no longer looked after in England and Wales because s/he is the subject of an adoption, special guardianship or child arrangements order which includes arrangements relating to with whom the child is to live, or when the child is to live with any person or has been adopted from 'state care' outside England and Wales; and • a child is in 'state care' outside England and Wales if s/he is in the care of or accommodated by a public authority, a religious organisation or any other organisation the sole or main purpose of which is to benefit society.

Rationale

Many children and young people who are in care or are previously looked after have suffered abuse or neglect. Despite having as broad a range of abilities as their peers, Looked After Children and those Previously Looked After are particularly vulnerable to underachievement. Nationally, Looked After Children (LAC) and Previously Looked After Children (PLAC) significantly underachieve and are at greater risk of exclusion compared with their peers. Their academic and social progress is likely to be affected by their experiences, and compounded by instability in their personal circumstances.

Helping LAC and PLAC succeed and providing a better future for them is a key priority in our school. Moreland School recognises that Looked After Children and Previously Looked After Children can experience specific and significant disadvantage within a school setting, and is committed to ensuring that they reach their potential in all areas. We are aware that Looked After Children and Previously Looked After Children may have specific difficulties in transport and attendance, doing homework, getting parental consent for activities, obtaining funding for extra activities, obtaining correct uniform and equipment, as well as stigma about their circumstances. Moreland School recognises that Looked After Children and Previously Looked After Children may have very specific needs and may be coping with trauma, abuse or rejection, and are likely to experience personal distress and uncertainty.

Moreland School believes that the educational experience of all children should be positive and powerful and aims to provide a learning environment in which every Looked After Child and those Previously Looked After can be successful. We believe that this school has a major part to play in ensuring that LAC and PLAC are able to be healthy, stay safe, enjoy, achieve, make a positive contribution to society and achieve economic wellbeing.

The Role of the School Governing Body

Statutory guidance on the roles and responsibilities of the Designated Teacher for looked-after children and previously looked-after children was revised in February 2018. Statutory guidance from the Department for Education was issued under sections 20(4) and 20A (4) of the Children and Young Persons Act 2008. This guidance is intended to ensure schools put in place policies, procedures and practice to support these children achieving well.

This means that the Governing Bodies of maintained schools, academy proprietors and the designated staff member at maintained schools and academies must have regard to it when promoting the educational attainment of looked-after and previously looked-after children

All schools must follow the guidance; it is responsibility of the Governing Body that the guidance is followed by their schools. The Governing Body must hold the school to account how the guidance is implemented and the how looked-after children and previously looked-after children are supported to achieve.

In Moreland School the governing body is committed to recognising and taking account that children's early life experiences can affect well-being, behaviour and learning and that this is particularly the case for children who are or who have been in care. Moreland School is committed to helping these children to achieve the highest standards they can. This includes developing aspirations to achieve in further and higher education. This can be measured by improvement in their achievements, well-being and contribution they make to school in general.

We are committed to providing quality education for all pupils and will:
